DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1) Applicant's election of species of shown in Figure 1, and claims 1-34, readable thereon, in Paper No. 7, is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 35-76, are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2) Claims 3, 6-7, 9, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 3, 6, are not clear as to "a gradient of said chemical additive".

Claim 7 is not clear as to the "enhanced quality" of the finished paper or tissue product. The term is vague making the claim indefinite.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "said softener" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3) Claims 1-19, 22-33, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Goulet (WO 00/66835).

Claims 1-6, 14, 16-19, 22-28: Goulet discloses a process whereby a fiber pulp slurry is transported to a pulp mill dry lap machine and is made into a fibrous web product, dewatering and drying the product and adding a chemical additive (pg. 6, line 170 to pg. 7, line 200). The fiber slurry is dewatered and dried to a predetermined consistency (pg. 3, lines 57-63). The chemical additive retention is between 0 and 20 percent when the fibrous web product is re-dispersed in water (pg. 3, lines 72-76). The re-dispersed web in water is a slurry containing chemical additives for further papermaking (pgs. 12-13).

Claim 7: the product is a tissue paper of enhanced quality (Abstract, and pg. 5, lines 126-131).

Claims 8, 10-13, 33: the chemical additives are disclosed as a softener, an absorbency agent, a wet strength agent, a dry strength agent (pg. 5, lines 142-143).

Claim 9: the chemical additive is an imidazoline based debonding agent (pg. 9, line 272).

Claims 15, 29-32: the amount of chemical additive applied is greater than 0.1 kilograms per metric ton (pg. 3, lines 72-74, and pg. 26, claims 22-24, of the Goulet patent).

4) Claims 20-21, 34, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Goulet.

Goulet discloses, as per above, a paper product, a tissue (pg. 5, lines 126-131). In the event any differences can be shown for the product-by-process claims 20-21, 34, as opposed to the product taught by the reference Goulet, such differences would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as a routine modification of the product in the absence of a showing of unexpected results; see also In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

Double Patenting

5) Claim 1 is provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 1 of copending Application No. 09/802,529. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

NA mailed 12/26/22

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: claim 1 of the present application differs from claim 1 of application 09/802,529, in part (d) only, in that in the copending application, the chemical additive is recited as "water insoluble", and in the copending application, the chemical retention rate is from "25 to about 100 percent" vs. "10 to about 100 percent" in the present application.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.
